Housing Residents Asked to Clean Up

Residents of housing areas are reminded of their responsibility to help keep the installations clean by using the trash receptacles whenever possible, especially on play grounds. After using the receptacles ensure the lid is secured to keep trash where it belongs.

Promptly Report Suspicious Activities

Community members are reminded that just because the Cold War is over doesn't mean spies have stopped trying to gain information on unit readiness, troop morale and future operations.

To report suspicious activities like someone asking a lot of questions about military operations or attempting to enter a post illegally, call the Stuttgart Military Intelligence Detachment, 421-2206/civ. 0711-729-2206.

Children Have Returned to School

The new school year has started and community members should watch for children near schools, school bus stops and crosswalks. Motorists are reminded that on military installations, cars must stop in both directions for a school bus with yellow flashing lights.

Battery-Powered Riding Toys Recalled

The Consumer Product Safety Commission has recalled battery-powered children's riding vehicles from three different manufacturers due to safety concerns. Customers should contact the manufacturer for more info, Tek Nek Toys, 877-446-7719; Empire Industries, 800-872-1869; or Fisher-Price, 888-289-9292.

Dog Registry Requirements Expand

All ID cardholders who are owners of Pit Bull Terriers, American Stafford Terriers and Bull Terriers, living on or off post, must register their dog(s) with the U.S. veterinarian servicing their military community in order to comply with German law. These breeds must be on a leash and muzzled when in public.

For purposes of registration the owner may choose to have the dog receive a microchip implant or a tattoo by the U.S. Veterinary Treatment Facility. Positive identification must be possible at the time of registration and German authorities prefer a tattoo. A police official must verify the identity of the dog at the Veterinary Treatment Facility, Panzer Kaserne by checking the tattoo or microchip number and photographing the animal.

Then, if the owner chooses, a temperament test will be performed to determine if the dog can be freed of the muzzle. These tests will start at the end of September or early October. For info call 431-2681/civ. 07031-15-681.
